

EVEN SO, COME

Words by Josh Via. Music by Andy Cherry, Scott Spruill, Timothy Morrison, Stuart Clark, and Josh Via. © 2010 Josh Via Music

Prelude: C#m | G#m F# (about 6x)

Big Intro: B | G#m | E B C#m - F#

V.1

G#m E
You saw it all before the earth was laid
B F#
When hearts were yet to beat and clouds to rain
G#m E
Our will exposed to freedom of the tree
B F#
We tasted death and ate our souls to sleep
E F#
And we prayed, "Someday, won't You come save us."

(Repeat Intro)

V.2

You saw the world again through human eyes
For hearts destroyed by sin You came to die
Your flesh exposed to anguish on the tree
You swallowed death and set the captives free
On that day, Your death paid it all

CHORUS:

B G#m
Who do you see coming? Who do you see coming?
E B C#m F#
Riding on wings of the morning, the Son of Man in His glory?
B G#m
Who do you see coming? Who do you see coming?
E B
Lift up your eyes, Your redemption is here,
C#m F#
Raise up a shout, see His glory revealed

(Repeat Prelude 2x)

V.3

You see it all, our wars, disease and hate
While hearts abandon hope, You whisper, "Wait."
The trump will sound and hail You King of Kings
We'll shout salvation full and free! What sin stole will be redeemed!

(Repeat Chorus 2x)

Postlude: C#m | G#m F#
